Where did MOOCs come from and
where should they take us?

Lord Geoffrey Crowther
Inauguration of the Open University
1969

“The world is caught in a communications revolution, the effects of which will go beyond those of the industrial revolution of two centuries ago.

Then the great advance was the invention of machines to multiply the potency of men's muscles.

Now the great new advance is the invention of machines to multiply the potency of men's minds. As the steam engine was to the first revolution, so the computer is to the second.”

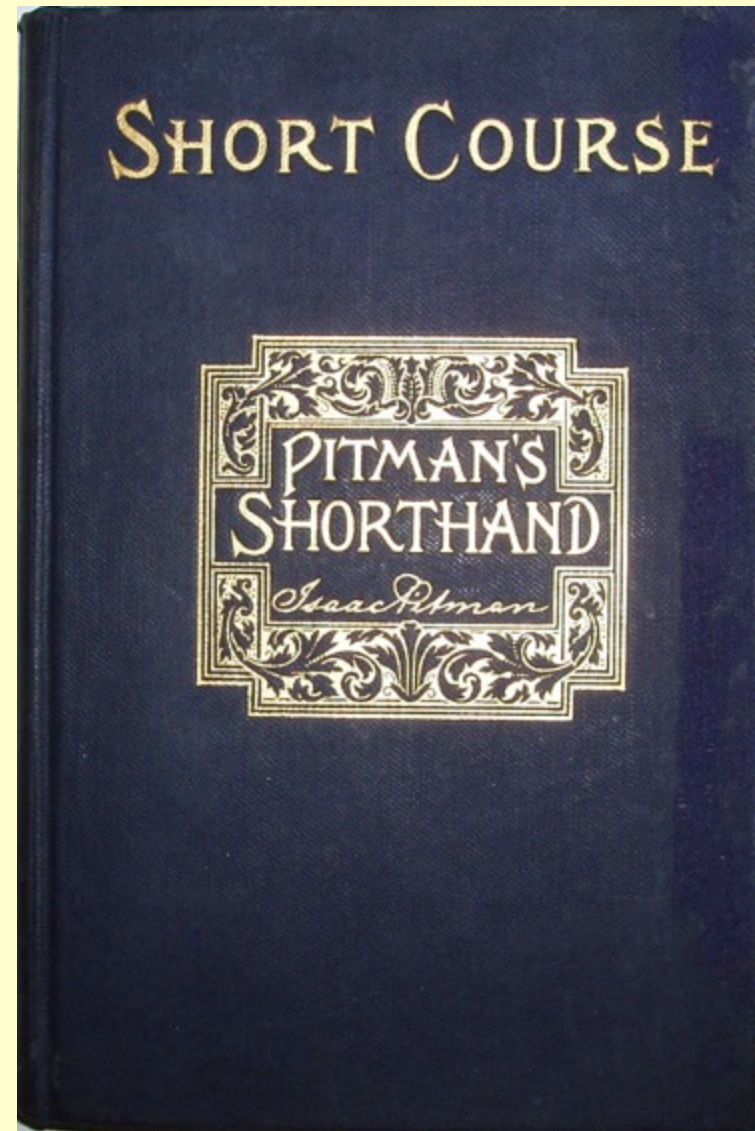

Lord Geoffrey Crowther, 1969

A photograph of a tombstone in a cemetery. The tombstone has a golden, dome-shaped top and a grey rectangular base. The base contains the text "Education for All" and "MOOCs" with a yellow arrow pointing upwards between them. The tombstone is set in a grassy area with trees and a path in the background.
