OPEN AND DISTANCE LEARNING (ODL)

Historically ODL has provided educational opportunities for women that many of them could not get elsewhere.

GOAL 2: ACHIEVE UNIVERSAL PRIMARY EDUCATION

Ensure that, by 2015, children everywhere, boys and girls alike, will be able to complete a full course of primary schooling

GOAL 3: PROMOTE GENDER QUALITY AND EMPOWER WOMEN

Eliminate gender disparity in primary and secondary education, preferably by 2005, and in all levels of education no later than 2015

Why a separate institution?

United States

Women who graduated from women's colleges were twice as likely to obtain doctorates as were women from co-educational institutions.

Gender equality is an issue of development effectiveness, not just a matter of political correctness or kindness to women.

World Bank

Reserving one third of the seats on local councils for women has led to improvements in the provision of water, sanitation in schools, a reduction in corruption, teenage girls marrying later, having few children and aspiring to higher education.
